The Animal Welfare Branch

The functions, powers and responsibilities of the Animal Welfare Branch are defined and determined by the Animal Welfare Act the objectives of which are to:

- ensure animals are treated humanely
- prevent cruelty to animals
- promote community awareness about the welfare of animals.

The Animal Welfare Branch also provides advice to the minister responsible for animal welfare, issues licences for research and teaching involving animals, investigates animal welfare reports and prosecutes offenders.

Acts of cruelty or other offences defined in the Animal Welfare Act can mean severe penalties for offenders.
